Jason Mendelson, Vice Chair, welcomed new and reappointed CAC members.

4. Member Introductions (Discussion)

Jason Mendelson invited each member of the Committee to introduce themselves, describe their background, and share their interest in Peninsula Clean Energy.

5. Programs Overview (Discussion)

Rafael Reyes, Director of Energy Programs, provided an overview of Peninsula Clean Energy’s programs strategy and portfolio. He discussed how these programs advance Peninsula Clean Energy’s goal to transition its communities to 100% greenhouse gas-free by 2035. Committee members asked questions and offered comments on the following topics.

Residential Electrification

Robert Whitehair, Committee Member, inquired about how Peninsula Clean Energy’s new residential electrification framework will interact with federal funding from the Inflation Reduction Act funds.

Brandon Chan, Committee Member, asked for clarification on the scope of the proposed “one-stop shop” website for home electrification.

Aurelio Huizar, Committee Member, asked how the proposed building electrification framework can benefit renters. Rafael Reyes highlighted how local and regional policies will support electrification of rental units and require electrification upgrades by property owners. He also explained that, compared to building electrification, transportation electrification (e.g., personal adoption of an electric vehicle) yields more reliable economic benefits for customers seeking lower bills.
Noting that heat pump water heater installations may be difficult and complex for some customers, Kathleen Goforth, Committee Member, shared her positive experience with having a heat pump water heater installed in her home.

Transportation Electrification

Gail Lee, Committee Member, inquired whether car companies have approached Peninsula Clean Energy to partner on electric vehicle charging infrastructure.

Local Power

Michael Closson, Committee Member, asked for an explanation of progress towards Peninsula Clean Energy’s goal to create a minimum of 20 Megawatts (MWs) of new local power.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Eduardo Pelegri-Llopart noted that some jurisdictions within Peninsula Clean Energy’s service territory have individual programs related to building electrification. Eduardo asked how these residential programs specific to municipalities interact with Peninsula Clean Energy’s programs.

6. Surplus Funds Ad Hoc Committee CAC Alternate Selection (Action)

Jason Mendelson provided background information about the Peninsula Clean Energy staff-led Surplus Funds Ad Hoc Committee. At its July 2023 meeting, the CAC recommended Steven Booker, Committee Member, as its representative for the Surplus Funds Ad Hoc Committee.

Jason made a motion to recommend Desiree Thayer, Committee Member, as the alternate representative of CAC for the Surplus Funds Ad Hoc Committee.

7. Brown Act Training (Discussion)

Kirsten Andrews-Schwind, Senior Manager of Community Relations, inquired about planned absences during the August CAC meeting and confirmed that a quorum of Committee members is expected. Vanessa Shin, Community Outreach Specialist, announced that Peninsula Clean Energy met its goal for enrollment in the E-Bikes for Everyone program.

9. Upcoming Topics for Discussion (Discussion)
Kirsten Andrews-Schwind previewed topics for the upcoming meetings of the Peninsula Clean Energy Board of Directors, including the 2022 CAC Work Plan deliverables and 2023 Work Plan, educational initiatives and partnerships, and a study session on grid regionalization.

For the August CAC meeting, Kirsten suggested including time for CAC members to sign up for Working Groups and elect the next CAC Chair. Jason Mendelson nominated Cheryl Schaff, CAC Chair, to continue her tenure as Chair.

Jason Mendelson suggested the following topics for future meetings: Regulatory and Legislative Update, Report from Ad Hoc Budget Surplus Committee, and Update on Peninsula Clean Energy’s 24/7 Renewable Energy Goal.
